

Director of the Jesuit Refugee Service Venezuela since July 2021. Actuary, social researcher, and Jesuit priest, focused on measuring the outcomes of social actions for the comprehensive protection of individuals and communities, in partnership with government entities and other national and international actors from the Church and the Humanitarian Architecture, through Ignatian accompaniment to foster a dignified and reconciled life.