

Mary Hares is the Humanitarian Assistance Program Director for the Pan American Development Foundation (PADF) in Venezuela. She oversees food security, HIV, and tuberculosis response programs implemented through more than 48 local partner organizations. With extensive experience leading complex humanitarian operations and coordinating local response efforts, she brings valuable frontline insights into disaster response, recovery, and partnership-driven humanitarian action in the aftermath of Venezuela's devastating earthquake.